[Intro – Short, haunting violin and piano]

Seven flames against the night
One remained to guard the light

[Verse 1 – Melodic clean vocals]

I built these walls with trembling hands
A sanctuary against the end
I watched the years erase their names
Yet swore to keep alive their flame

My body failed, my strength was gone
But still my promise carried on
If time would take this life from me
My will would be the final key

[Chorus – Powerful melodic metalcore]

I am the last light beneath the stone
The final flame that burns alone
Through endless darkness, I'll hold the line
I'll guard the dawn until the end of time

Though my body fades away
My promise will remain

[Verse 2 – Heavier guitars, clean vocals]

No breath, no strength, no waking eyes
Yet something in me still survives

Behind these halls, beyond their sight

I keep the flame alive tonight

A borrowed face, a voice they know

While deep beneath, I wait below

[Chorus – More intense, layered vocals]

I am the last light beneath the stone

The final flame that burns alone

Through endless darkness, I'll hold the line

I'll guard the dawn until the end of time

Though my body fades away

My promise will remain

[Breakdown – Heavy riffs, screamed vocals]

MY FLESH MAY FAIL!

MY NAME MAY DIE!

BUT MY WILL WILL NEVER SAY GOODBYE!

BENEATH THE STONE!

BEHIND THE WALLS!

I AM THE ONE WHO ANSWERS THE CALL!

[Bridge – Short, emotional violin and clean vocals]

Who will remember who I was?

When all that's left is what I've done?

[Final Chorus – Explosive, full instrumentation]

I am the last light beneath the stone

The final guardian, still holding on

Through endless darkness, I'll hold the line

I'll guard the dawn until the end of time

My body fades, but I remain

A dying light that conquers fate

[Outro – Short, fading vocals]

Seven flames...

One still burning...

[End]
